This Holiday Season

This holiday season I'm going to visit my family member - grandpa sister in country. There, I will get to meet my new baby family member - grandpa sister name of person and spend some Adjective time with my family I haven't seen in over amount of time - two minutes or five years etc. We are putting up a color tree this year in the room in house instead of the room in house. We are going verb plus ING at a place called name of person Hill where we all go verb plus ING down Number feet deep hills on these really cool Noun - Plural, so Adjective! We're also going ice- verb plus ING there, I love it because the little shop serves this Adjective hot beverage and they also offer a flavor - cinnamon vanilla bacon etc flavor now. Then we are going shopping for Noun - Plural and last minute gifts! I plan on getting my male family member a kitchen Noun set since he loves to verb and he's a Adjective occupation. I also want to send my Animal who's back home a Adjective single piece of clothing that has little red Noun - Plural. I can't wait for X-Mas Eve, we're going to bake fiction character - batman vampire etc cookies and kind of spice bread men or women, then we're going outside to have snow- Noun fights, make plural shelter - huts hospitals tents etc and snow fiction character - batman vampire etc 's. I will take many pictures to send back home in country, including a picture of me verb plus ING in the earthly substance - rain fog fire and one with my new snow- plural clothing on at the liquid -rink. I love the Holidays, it's a time of verb plus ING [not verb plus ING], capturing Adjective moments and spending time with Adjective people.
